Indiana native Chase Jones will join Nikita Lastochkin, who enjoyed several races with CSM in 2024, in a 3rd Czabok-Simpson Motorsport (CSM) IMSA Michelin Pilot Challenge GS entry, starting in Laguna Seca.

The 28-year-old from Monrovia, moves up to the Michelin Pilot Challenge GS class after several impressive runs in the TCR category in 2024, alongside rapid CSM regular Morgan Burkhard. The debut for the pairing at the iconic California circuit follows a successful two-day test in CSM's new Porsche GT4 RS Clubsport at the Putnam Park Road Course.

"I'm ecstatic to get going at Laguna with the CSM team. We've been working hard to make this happen ever since Daytona - learning, preparing, and staying focused, ready for whenever the opportunity came. After two solid days of testing with my teammates and co-driver Nikita, my confidence is high and the team culture is strong. We're ready to execute. None of this would be possible without the support of Jackson Gardner and MPG Academy, Stephen, Matthias, and my incredible partners.” Commented Chase Jones.

CSM Co-owner, Stephen Simpson said, “I’m excited to have Chase join CSM as Nikita’s teammate in our 3rd entry, we have known him for a long time and he has been embedded with the team during the first two races this season. We have worked really hard with Chase and his partners to put this deal together and having him and Nikita at our recent two-day test will, for sure, have helped in getting him familiarised with the step up to the Porsche.”
